SUPERINTENDENT NEWS

by Josh Meyer, Superintendent

As the final days of school come to a close, we have a lot of activities planned: banquets, concerts, awards assemblies, field trips, and sports events. For many kids, the countdown to the end of school has begun. The class of 2022 is looking forward to their upcoming commencement ceremony.

We often think of graduation as an ending. Actually, the word commencement means beginning. This event marks the end of their years at St. John High School, but it marks the beginning of the rest of their lives. As they move into the next phase of their lives, we wish the senior class of 2022 all the best.

I recently had the privilege to watch several of our graduating seniors present their portfolios. I was blown away with how well they did with their presentations. It was evident in their presentations that the courses, activities, and programs we have in place are helping them be successful. Nearly all of them talked about how much the teachers and staff helped them along the way. It was a good reminder of the great things we are doing here in our district and made me very proud. I want to commend Lisa Cornwell for getting senior portfolio project started and Joanna McAlister for putting it all together.

Please check the calendar and our social media pages to stay in the loop about end of the year activities. Take note that the last day of school has changed. The last day for our senior class is May 11th. The last day of school for the other students is May 19th. School ---

Education is vastly different than it was 100 years ago and what it means to be a teacher has evolved. A common definition for teaching is to impart knowledge. Technology has made it possible to have unlimited knowledge at our fingertips. The days are gone of the teacher having all of the knowledge and transferring that to students.

Research still shows that the most important factor in the success of a student is the effectiveness of the teacher in the classroom. The time that we were forced to do “remote” learning has only reinforced that fact. While technology tools can make teaching and learning more dynamic and effective, it cannot replace what teachers do for students every day.

In May we celebrate teacher appreciation week. I want to express thanks to all of the teachers at USD 350 for choosing to make a difference in the lives of our kids. I would encourage you all to reach out to a teacher to express appreciation for the great work they do with our kids.

As the legislative session comes to a close, there was talk of adding funding for special education to bring that up to the level required by law. With the state’s budget projected to end with a $2.7 billion surplus, many thought this was the time to fix this $150 million gap in funding. While base aid has been increasing in recent years, special education funding has not been keeping up with increased costs.

Kansas law requires that the state cover 92% of the excess costs for special education.

Currently, the state only appropriates enough to cover 72% of excess costs. The result is that our special education co-op must assess local districts a higher fee to cover that funding gap. We pay an additional $124,000 from our general fund to make up that difference. If state funding were provided according to statute, that $124,000 would be freed up for other uses in our general fund budget.

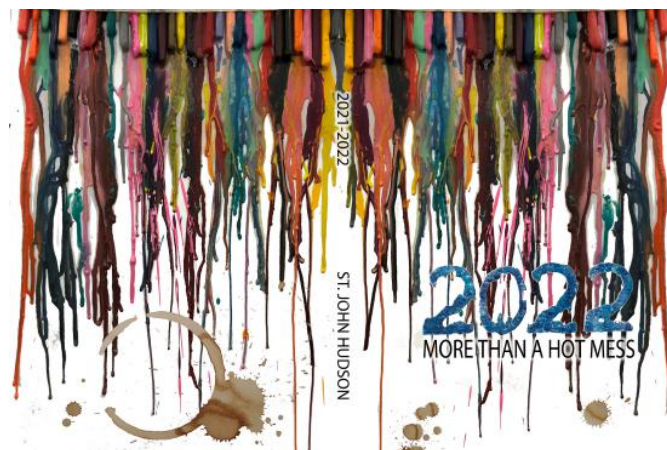

We will offer a summer meal program once again this year. Lunch and breakfast is provided free for everyone ages 18 and under. Funding for this program is provided by the federal school lunch program. Breakfast will be provided to-go and can be picked up between 8:00 and 8:30am. Lunch will be served daily at 12:00-12:30 in the school cafeteria from June 1st through June 30th.

As always, if you’d like to visit about any of these topics or have other questions or concerns, I can be reached at 620-549-3564 or meyerj@usd350.com. I am proud to be a Tiger and proud to serve USD 350 with Purpose, Passion, and Pride

KINDERGARTEN CHICK PROJECT

edited by Mrs. Christiansen

Both kindergarten classes incubated and hatched chicken eggs this month! Funding for the incubation project was provided by Tiger Town and the Enrichment Foundation and Mr. Norman Cooper provided the chicken eggs. Alicia Boor from the Barton County Extension Office helped the kindergarteners label and set all 24 eggs on April 5th. As part of our Tiger Town grant project, the kindergarten students were able to go to Tiger Town on the afternoon of April 11th where they learned about how a pizza is made, ingredients, and measuring. Mrs. Boor returned again on April 18th to candle the eggs and monitor chick progress. After candling the eggs, the kindergarten students had 14 eggs that were fertilized and developing appropriately. On Monday, April 25th our Bantam eggs (which have a shorter incubation period, made their first pip, which is the first crack in the egg to start the hatching process. On Tuesday, April 26th, three Bantam chicks were waiting for the students when they arrived that morning. Kindergarten and preschool students were able to watch the first larger egg hatch live! Throughout the day, more chicks hatched!

Thank you so much to Tiger Town and the Enrichment Foundation, Mr. Cooper, and Mrs. Boor. Without your support, we would not have been able to provide this amazing learning opportunity for our students!

CPL ART SHOW 2022

by Mrs. Behnke

St. John Art students had an amazing showing at the CLP art show. 8 of the 9 CPL league schools came to play and the competition was fierce. Each school brought their best 30 art works. We brought back a total of 18 medals and certificates. Including Overall Best in Show, 3D Best in Show and the Student Choice Award. It is tough enough placing in any category. Bringing home one best in show is unusual, but we captured 3 this year! When you see these students please congratulate them. I want to express how truly proud I am of you all.

TEN YEARS OF THE ST. JOHN COMIC BOOK CLUB

by Mr. Bryant, Club Sponsor

The 2022-2023 school year will mark the ten-year anniversary of the St. John Comic Book Club: Ten years, my how times flies! Then with the success of the Comic Book Club came the Chess Club which I started in 2018.

Before I thought of the idea of starting a comic book club, I noticed that several students would talk about superheroes, Anime, and other similar topics. I also observed that a lot of those same students weren't involved in any sports, scholars bowl, vocal, band or drama. I thought about when I was in high school and all the great memories of playing sports; of being on the baseball & football teams and being on the NJROTC rifle drill team.

But the memories that stuck out the most during my high school career was when my friends and I would get together and talk, or rather have heated debates, about our favorite superheroes and who would win in a fight between Superman or the Hulk, Captain America or Batman. We talked about the latest comic book, science fiction, fantasy, or horror novel we've read. We talked about the latest Star Wars or Star Trek movie and which characters were our favorite and why.

I wanted to create those fun memories for students who liked talking about all things pop culture.

So, when I asked a few students if they would be interested in starting a Comic Book Club the response was overwhelmingly positive. At our first meeting we had thirty members. Thirty! This was, for me, a very positive beginning to something that I didn't realize would last for nearly ten years.

Over the last nine years the club members have discussed and debated various topics up to and including who would win in a battle between the Hulk and Superman. While I'm a huge Marvel Zombie, my money is on Superman. Sorry, Hulk.

The club has sponsored a variety of events including the May 4th Star Wars Day, Free Comic Book Day, RPG (Role Playing Games) Card and Video Game Tournaments.

Throughout the years members of the club have held fund raisers to raise money for trips to Wichita comic book shops, going to see superhero movies, and the Smallville Comic Con held in Hutchinson. Sometimes keeping some of the younger members on task during concessions during basketball games was like herding squirrels. Hence all the gray hairs I now have. ;-)

Thankfully the club seniors and officers present at the concessions stand helped maintain order and wrangled in the squirrels.

Speaking of the club officers; over the years I have modeled and taught leadership skills to the club officers including event planning, meeting management, adaptability, active listening, responsibility, accountability, public speaking, interpersonal & communication skills, and most importantly; empathy. These are all transferable skills necessary for successful employment regardless of the field of work they choose to go into.

With the Chess Club, members have learned equally important skills. Chess Club members come to understand that when playing chess, it challenges your brain to use logic, to understand and develop pattern recognition. To make decisions tactfully, visually, analytically, and to test their memory.

Since the launching both clubs, I've had several St. John alumni catch up with me for a visit and it really warmed my heart to hear them talk about all their good memories, good times, and the fun we all had with the clubs.

Now I look back and think about the last nine years of sponsoring the clubs with fondness. I think about all the creative ideas club members brought and continue to bring. I think about all the fantastic artistry I have seen throughout the years. I look back and remember listening to the same nerdy discussions my friends and I had when we were teenagers.

Yes, I said nerdy. We embraced our nerdism then and now that Pop Culture permeates society and is predominantly accepted all around the world; We wholeheartedly, and proudly, embrace the moniker of "Nerd". Even celebrities like Mark Hamill, Angelina Jolie, Anna Kendrick, Simon Pegg, Vin Diesel, Ariana Grande, and Lin-Manuel Miranda embrace being nerds.

Nerds shall inherit and, benevolently, rule the world. Unless we all become evil then we'll rule with an iron fist, but you'll still get Taco Tuesday! Octopus tacos that is. Hey, I said we'd be evil. MUAHAHAHA!

Sorry, I went off on a slight ramble there. This self-proclaimed nerd tends to do that. So, my mission to create fun and happy memories to remind students of their time at St. John-Hudson High school? I'd say mission accomplished.

Yearbook contributors: Abigail Guillen, Morgan Gunter, Audrey Willinger, Kyla Rodarmel, and Victor Rosales-Ubanda.

Finally a thank you to all of the students, staff and community members for contributing content, we can't do this without your help. Thank you to Mac Knight for taking on the duty of sports pictures. A special thank you to Dick Smith for your tireless and thoughtful coverage of so many school events. Mr. Smith, you are a community treasure. St. John has a summer printing date. You will be able to pick up your pre-ordered copy at enrollment. ## A HISPANIC EASTER: CASCARONES

by Brandon Henkle

Around Easter time, you may see children, as well as adults, running after each other with colored eggs in their hands, which then explode into confetti when they hit their desired target. These are called cascarones, or “confetti eggs”. According to historians, cascarones originated in China. It is rumored that Marco Polo first brought them to Italy, and on to Spain, and they eventually made their way to the Americas. In the beginning, the eggs were quite elegant and valuable; instead of confetti, they were filled with perfumed powders, making them popular with high-society women.

They became quite popular in Mexico in the 1860s, after Emperor Maximiliano's wife, Carlotta, introduced them to the country. In Mexico, the powders were replaced with confetti and given their name "cascarones," the plural form of "cáscara," which means shell in Spanish.

Mrs. Mixon's Spanish classes decorated egg shells and participated in a traditional egg hunt.

THIS TIME OF YEAR

by Blain White, HS Principal

This time of year can be pretty exciting for students, teachers and parents (ok, maybe a little stressful for everyone too). Students are finishing projects and assignments, teachers are trying to finish out units and prepare for the final touches on the semester, and parents are making plans for the summer with their kids at home. To me, it seems like it was a long year that flew by really fast. A lot of great things were accomplished this school year.

So, what do principals do at the end of the school year? I feel the excitement of closing out another successful year but I'm also excited to be looking forward to the 2022-2023 school year. There are several notable things happening next school year that I think move us in the right direction in a lot of ways.

One of the exciting things I want to mention is that we will be adding a JAG (Jobs for American Graduates) program next year for half the school day. JAG is an organization that is dedicated to helping young people graduate from high school and make successful transitions to post-secondary education or meaningful employment. The training for the students in those classes focuses on competencies in several different clusters.

1. CAREER DEVELOPMENT
2. JOB ATTAINMENT
3. JOB SURVIVAL
4. BASIC SKILLS
5. LEADERSHIP AND SELF-DEVELOPMENT
6. PERSONAL SKILLS
7. Life Survival
8. Work Place
9. Economic Empowerment

This program will definitely be a benefit to quite a few of our students. We will be contacting students and parents who might qualify to take advantage of the JAG program. I don't have a timeline for that but hopefully it will be soon.

Our business department will also be showcasing some new projects. We will have a student run bank in the school that will be operated in cooperation with SJN Bank of Kansas. Students of all ages will be able to deposit into savings, earn interest, cash checks, make change, withdraw money (if they have a balance on their account). The students who are running the bank will also manage some of our activity accounts with oversight.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

This has been an effective model in several schools around the state and teaches a lot of valuable business and interpersonal skills. I believe that St. John High School will be the smallest school in the state with this program.

The business department is also planning on featuring a school store where students and patrons will be able to purchase various school related items. They will also have a broadcasting station complete with green-screen and broadcasting desk as well as quality camera and editing equipment. We are looking for great things to come out of that. Tiger Coffee has been going strong this semester with our FACS and Business classes and has been a huge hit with staff and students. We will continue with that as well, and possibly grow it to a point that patrons can come enjoy the coffee as well.

Next year is our 3rd year of the house remodel with Mr. Moritz and the Residential Carpentry class and we are hoping to complete that project by the end of the next school year. A lot of that will depend on the ability to get the items we need, when we need them. When the house is close to complete we will have an open house to show off the skills of our students who have worked on it. Our plan is to sell the house and hopefully reinvest any profits to start a new project. In the end, it is going to make a really nice home for someone in our community.

We will also have a lot of other things going on in all areas and we are always looking for ways to offer new things for our students. All of these programs should help prepare them for life after high school whether students are planning on entering a technical field, go to college or go directly into the workforce. With all that said, thank you to all who have helped make this a successful school year. It takes everyone to educate students and we have an outstanding student body, exceptionally focused staff, and one of the most supportive communities that I have been involved in. Thank you everyone and I hope you have an enjoyable and blessed summer break.
